COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The cotton market opened at an advance of 264 points, this being a feeble response to the liverage pool cables, which were expected to coma 264 points lower, and came only 263 points lower.

pool cables, which were expected to come soft points lower, and came only 263 points lower. The buying was largely by commission houses with the bear contingent inclined to sell on indications of larger receipts next week, but at best it was a small market, with prices soon after call off to the closing of yesterday. Selling was checked by very favorably accounts from Fall River and from the spot cotton markets at large, the latter indicating, a well-sustained demand from exporters and spinners. A pressure on today's market was a larger estimate as to Monday's receipts at flousion and estimated port receipts to-day, the latter pointing to $2.000 bales against $3.00 last year. Public interest was small, while the professional contingent showed a disposition to hold off for further indications of next week's receipts.

Union Pacific People Do Not Expect Labor Troubles—Earnings Large.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, January 81—London did practically nothing in this market to-day, nost of the arbitrage brokers remaining away from the Exchange. American stocks in London were not much changed, and most of the buying came from this side. Other departments were stagment.

cific was due to assurances by directors of that company that they placed no credence in the rumors of serious trouble dence in the rumors of serious trouble over the machinists' strike, which has been in progress for nine months. A leading interest said to-day that the operating men had received advances in wages, and were not in sympathy with the few "malcontents" among the strikers; also that the places of most of the strikers had been already filled. It was such statements as this that imparted early strength to the entire Granger list.

that a recommendation of the control of the carrying out of a trust agreement between this road and the Central Trust Company, the Rock Island shares moved off slightly. Near the close the stocks became active.

Comment is heard on the fact that while the gross earnings of the various railroads continue to be extremely satisfactory, the net earnings do not increase in like proportion The net earnings of the railroads have reflected for some time the increase in the cost of labor and material, and the advance in freight rates has not yet begun to manifest itself fully. Within another month, or two at the most, railroad men say that the increase in raies will neutralize to a great extent the increase in the cost of labor and materials, and net earnings will reflect in a substantial degree the great prosperity of the railroads, amply evidenced now in the gross figures.

Some rather pessimistic reports on copper from London and a doubt as to the ability of the people interested in the advance of the metal to hold the price at its present figures caused some good conservative selling of Amalgamated Conper. The professional opinion is that the neel in that stock, while it is not meating with actual opposition, has received very little encouragement from the Stand.

(Special to the Times-Dispatch.)

BOSTON, MASS, January SI.—The selection to-day of Hon. Josiah Quincy as chairman of the Democratic State Committee's Executive Board is the first move for the promotion of an Olney boom in the presidential campaign.

It is conceded by all Democrats that Mr. Quincy is one of the ablest organizers and promoters of a political movement that Massachusetts ever produced, and for this reason he has been selected to lead the fray. It is now an open secret that for two months past he has been hard at work perfecting plans to make Mr. Olney the nominees in 1904, and all the old forces of the blue-blooded Democrats of the State have now beer drawn into line for the ex-Secretary of State.

State.

Indications multiply that the ucclarations for him, by the various southern leaders, which began two menths ago were all planned from this city, and that they appeared in sight only when the men at this end gave the signal.

NEW YORK, January 31.—A news agency has this to say of Chesapeake and Ohio:
Owing to the disastrous effects of the coal strike, the Chesapeake and Ohio earned in the calendar year 1902 just two per cent. This, compared with threequarters per cent., earned in the fiscal year 1901-'02, and with two-eighths per cent. in the calendar year 1901.
The December statement showed increases of $192,000 in gross and $57,000 in net.

This is even better than the November statement, which also showed substantial gains.

It is doubtful, however, if in the next eix months the net loss from the strike can be fully recovered, since to accomplish this result the road would have to make net gains of $120,000 a month.

Smallpox at Durham.

DURHAM, N. C., January 31.—A trayelling salesman named Williams, sick in a bearding-house, was visited by Health Officer N. N. Johnson, and the disease pronounced to be smallpox. He was at once sent to the pest-house. The boarding-house was quarantined and disinfected. Physiolans think the precautions are such that there will be no spread of the malady.
